

Greetings, all!

The following update comes from ASEC Mission Partner Federal Trade Commission.

Dear Colleague,

I'm writing to let you know that the FTC announced enhancements to IdentityTheft.gov – the federal government's free, one-stop resource to help people fix problems caused by identity theft. IdentityTheft.gov now makes it easier for victims of identity theft to report it and recover from it. New features on the site allow people to:

- Get a personal recovery plan that walks them through each step
- Update their personal plan and track their progress
- Print pre-filled letters & forms to send to credit bureaus, businesses, and debt collectors

No matter what the specific identity theft situation is, IdentityTheft.gov can help. And, the entire site is available in Spanish at RobodelIdentidad.gov.

We count on partners like you to make sure that identity theft victims know about this free resource. We hope that you:

- Link to IdentityTheft.gov and RobodelIdentidad.gov from your website.
- Update your identity theft print publications to include IdentityTheft.gov and RobdelIdentidad.gov.
- Send a press release to your media networks about IdentityTheft.gov.
- Distribute free identity theft materials in English and Spanish at your events. Order them free here.
- Share on social media IdentityTheft.gov as the one-stop resource for victims of identity theft
- Talk about IdentityTheft.gov in your presentations and seminars about identity theft.

Identity theft victims now can get a new level of personalized assistance that they never had before. Thank you, for helping us spread the word about this resource. If you have any questions or would like more information about how to use IdentityTheft.gov please contact me.

Rosario Méndez

Attorney, Division of Consumer and Business Education

Federal Trade Commission

Bureau of Consumer Protection

(202) 326-3749

rmendez@ftc.gov